Logo & Mascot

The “Hinomaru” design incorporates the initials “T” (pink) for Taijiquan, “C” (mint green) for Changquan, and “N” (purple) for Nanquan, representing three international wushu events. These patterns (shapes) are inspired by the image of a flame, symbolizing the vibrant energy overflowing in the wushu world of Japan (echoing the Japanese flag and the sun) while also reflecting the dynamic spirit of wushu athletes worldwide.

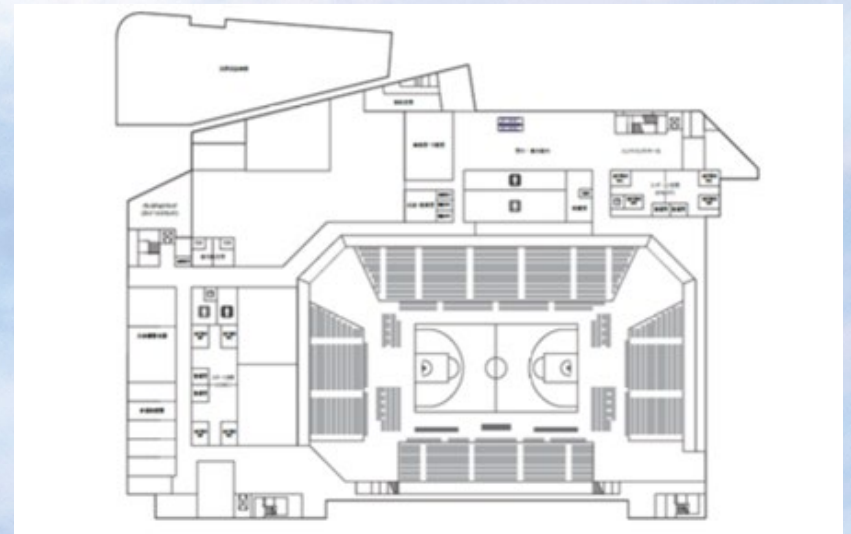

in our design, we chose the motif of the “Ninja,” which has garnered significant interest from other countries in recent years. We created three characters (ninjas) to represent each of the three international wushu events: Taiji (with a tai chi sword), Changquan (with a spear), and Nanquan (with a southern sword). The faces of each character are slightly decorated with subtle kabuki kumadori decorations, enhancing the Japanese aesthetic and atmosphere. Additionally, by equipping them with weapons that symbolize Chinese martial arts, we have crafted characters that highlight both “Japan” and “Chinese martial arts,” emphasizing their close connection.

Venue YOKOHAMA BUNTAI

Yokohama BUNTAI is a new facility that reopened this April from the Yokohama Bunka Gymnasium completed in 1962. With a seating capacity of approximately 5,000, it was designed as Japan's first theater-type arena, and its attraction is that the distance from the arena seats to the competition courts is close, allowing spectators to watch the competitions being held in the center from all sides with great intensity.

The Yokohama Culture and Gymnasium is also a venue closely associated with wushu, having hosted the 1st Asian Wushu Championships in 1987. It is well located from the nearest station, Kannai Station, and is surrounded by Yokohama Chinatown, which offers a wide variety of restaurants and other services.

City Attractions

Yokohama City

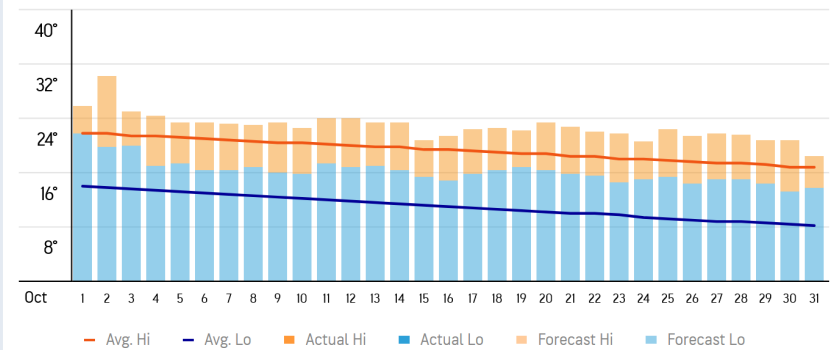

Yokohama is Japan's second largest city with a population of over three million. Yokohama is located less than half an hour south of Tokyo by train and is the capital of Kanagawa Prefecture. Towards the end of the Edo Period (1603-1868), during which Japan maintained a policy of self-isolation, Yokohama's port was one of the first to open to foreign trade in 1859. Consequently, Yokohama quickly grew from a small fishing village into one of Japan's major cities. Until today, Yokohama remains popular among expats, has one of the world's largest Chinatowns and preserves some former Western residences in the Yamate district.
